ARMY AND NAVY NEWS

Sunday is now a day of rest aboard Uncle Sam's warships and only that duty which is absolutely necessary or requisite is to be performed. The new order also specifies that the commanding officer's inspection of ship and crew shall not be held Sunday, but on other days of the week when most convenient. Although coaling is in progress on Admiral Sebree's ships very little work will be done on board them today.

For South Seas Tuesday.

On Tuesday the Pacific fleet will leave for Nares Harbor, Admiralty Islands. The vessels will be entirely coaled on Monday, repairs will have been completed on the Colorado and West Virginia and every ship spick and span and in readiness for the long cruise to the south and west. In February the Big Eight will be back here again from China and Japan, remain here about a week and then proceed to San Francisco.

To Assist Chief of Artillery.

Maj. Andrew Hero Jr., Coast Artillery Corps, has been relieved from duty at Fort Flagler, Wash., and detailed as an assistant to the chief of coast artillery, at the War Department, to relieve Maj. Frank W. Coe, Coast Artillery Corps. Maj. Hero will report to this city and report in person to the chief of coast artillery for duty.

Was With Sampson.

Captain John Madison Oehard, in command of the U. S. S. West Virginia, was appointed to the naval academy in 1873 being graduated there in 1878 in the same class with Charles L. Wright, manager of the Honolulu Gas Company. When the battleship Missouri was put into service he was assigned to the command of her because he had been appointed to the academy from that state. He was with Admiral Sampson at the battle of Santiago. His assignment to the command of the West Virginia was on August 22 this year.

A Season's Experience has demonstrated the remarkable absence of "automobile troubles" in the

CADILLAC

"THIRTY"

The present automobile season has developed no single feature more remarkable than the absence of repair-necessities wherever the Cadillac "Thirty" is in use.

There is a sameness and unanimity about the reports received from cities all over the country that is striking, to say the least.

Thousands of these dependable cars have been in constant use for months; traveling thousands of miles under all sorts of conditions, and the record as shown by reports received from dealers and owners is invariably the same.

Repair work—the least in motor car history. Engine troubles—almost absolutely absent.

This record, which is one of the most unique ever developed in the automobile world—is and can be due to but one thing—the scrupulous workmanship which distinguishes the Cadillac "Thirty."

Cadillac workmanship demands a fineness of fit so absolute that it can be measured only in units of less than the thickness of a single hair.

To this precision, then, the Cadillac "Thirty" owes its almost frictionless operation.

And to this precision is due the fact that the thousands of cars now in continuous use in owners' hands, have required practically no attention beyond the ordinary care which the owner should bestow on his car as a matter of course.
